Description

This specific camSuit perfectly fits and protects the Panasonic AJ-PX5100GJ camera. It's a tailor-made Cordura® fabric, form-fitted camera cover, with foam padding on the inside for maximum protection.

Transparent vinyl windows allow a clear view on screens and controls. Strategically located openings with hook and loop fasteners provide easy access to ports and controls.

The cover also has a built-in rain cover to protect your equipment when a small rain shower catches you off-guard.

This item will be delivered to you in a waterproof pouch with zipper, which you can use for storage and transportation.
