Description
A Blackmagic Pocket Cinema Camera 4K, used with or without a cage, that’s what the camRade wetSuit Blackmagic Pocket Cinema has covered!

This water-resistant cover with large windows on all sides is easy to use and enables access to all main controls and allows good view of all important displays. It is also spacious enough to also cover a cage including top handle.

Two cuffs on the sides for your hands and an elastic cord around the lens make sure no water comes in the suit during use.

A wide opening, with hook and loop fasteners, on top of the cover creates access for attaching accessories and a similar opening on the bottom allows access to a stand or a tripod.

The wetSuit is supplied in a pouch with zipper for safe storage and transportation.
